Four Cantor Colburn Attorneys Named Women High Achievers in the Law
by *Connecticut Law Tribune

Hartford, Conn.—Cantor Colburn LLP attorneys Leah Reimer, Ph.D., Pamela Curbelo, Anne Davis Barry, and Marisa J. Dubuc, are in the September 2010 special section of Connecticut Law Tribune for being among the state's women high achievers in the law. This is the second year that the Tribune has published this distinction and the second year that Cantor Colburn attorneys have been recognized.

“Leah, Pam, Anne, and Marisa have all distinguished themselves as very effective and knowledgeable patent attorneys,” said Michael A. Cantor, co-managing partner of Cantor Colburn LLP. “We are proud of the service they provide to our clients.”

Leah Reimer and Pamela Curbelo, who are partners at the firm and co-chair the Chemical, Material and Life Sciences department, were also recognized in 2009. Attorneys Barry and Dubuc are counsel at the firm; this is the first year they have received this honor.

Cantor Colburn's patent practice continues to thrive and was recently ranked #1 in the country for patent prosecution in Corporate Counsel's, September, 2010 feature, “Who Represents America's Biggest Companies.” The firm is ranked #13 for issued U.S. patents issued in 2009, representing an 18% increase from the year before (Intellectual Property Today, May 2010).
